

产品保修

The image features a dense and intricate composition of black lines on a white background. The lines vary in thickness and orientation, creating a sense of depth and movement. Several lines are straight, while others are curved, some resembling arcs or partial circles. The lines intersect and overlap in various ways, forming a complex web of shapes. In the upper central portion, the Chinese characters '产品保修' (Product Warranty) are printed in a clean, sans-serif font. The overall effect is that of a technical or architectural sketch, possibly representing a structural framework or a complex system of relationships.
